

Tenor Sax Fingering Chart

thefingeringchart.com

Written pitch. A written C on the tenor sax sounds as concert B $\flat$ , an octave and a step lower. Filled keys are pressed; open keys stay up.

|                                     |                                     |                                     |                                     |                                     |                                     |                                     |                                     |                                     |                                     |                                     |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| A# / B<math>\flat</math> | B                        | C                        | C# / D<math>\flat</math> | D                        | D# / E<math>\flat</math> | E                        | F                        | F# / G<math>\flat</math> | G                        | G# / A<math>\flat</math> |
| A                        | A# / B<math>\flat</math> | B                        | C                        | C# / D<math>\flat</math> | D                        | D# / E<math>\flat</math> | E                        | F                        | F# / G<math>\flat</math> | G                        |
| G# / A<math>\flat</math> | A                        | A# / B<math>\flat</math> | B                        | C                        | C# / D<math>\flat</math> | D                        | D# / E<math>\flat</math> | E                        | F                        | F# / G<math>\flat</math> |